

Waynesboro Historical Commission
Secretary's Report
April 17, 2018

Attending: Susan Elder, Megan Reid, Kelly Shelly, Ron Hiserman, Judy Smith, Jake Buscher, Jeff Mellott and Judy Walden

Guest: Tom Carlsson

Judy Walden opened the meeting at 6:30.

- The minutes had been emailed prior to the meeting and they were accepted as sent.
- We had a discussion of the framed photo of Samuel Estill and it was decided that we would see if the library would accept it as Shirley is going to put up a new panel at the Waynesboro Museum that included his portrait, information about him and a copy of the old Estill plat. We were concerned that the City would place his photo in the conference room where very few people would see it even though Col. Estill would be considered the Father of Waynesboro.
- Constance Paradiso emailed Judy W saying that she and Clair Meyers had a draft of their booklet on Walnut Grove and wanted to present it to the Commission. We discussed meeting them or having a copy of it sent so that it could be read by all members and then comments made to Judy. She would then compile the comments and send them to Constance. It was moved, seconded and approved that Judy would forward to each member the work done by Constance and Clair. At the same time, it was suggested that the work done on the booklet, The First Industrial Complex in Waynesborough also be forwarded for each member to peruse. This was done the next day.
- There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned at 7:35.

Respectfully submitted,

Judy Walden
